

BGSU American Culture Studies Alum Presents:

"Speaking For Those Whose Voices Would Not Otherwise Be Heard."

Tuesday, October 15, 2013 at 7:00pm
Bowling Green State University BAA 1007

Randall Norris

- Fulbright Senior Specialists Program Roster
- Illinois Humanities Council "Roads" Scholar
- Kentucky Humanities Council Project Director of the Year
- Distinguished Chair, Finalist, Helsinki, Finland

A graduate of the American Culture Studies PhD Program at Bowling Green State University, Dr. Randall Norris is a professor of English and American culture studies at Sauk Valley Community College in Dixon, Illinois. He is an award-winning fiction writer, humanities presenter and author, filmmaker, and has written 30 grants of which all 30 have been funded. In addition he has done numerous television and radio appearances and several humanities presentations in both the United States and Canada.

His books Women of Coal and most recently Highway 61—Heart of the Delta resulted from a partnership with award-winning French photographer Jean Philippe Cypres. For the past twenty years Professor Norris and Jean Phillippe have dedicated themselves to producing public humanities projects and books (photo-essays) that focus on social justice issues, where they... "provide a place for people to speak whose voices would not otherwise be heard."