First Anniversary of Not in Our Town – Bowling Green/BGSU

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2014

DIVERSITY SHOWCASE

228 Bowen-Thompson Student Union | Noon - 2 p.m.

Hosted by Undergraduate Student Government & Graduate Student Senate

Come celebrate BGSU's diversity and enjoy performances from singers, instrumentalists, rappers and spoken word poets.

BREAKING DOWN THE WALLS

a "Not in Our Town" Event

Fill out a brick to help build the wall

228 Bowen-Thompson Student Union | Noon - 2 p.m.

Olscamp Hall | 5 - 7 p.m.

When words of hate and mistreatment are said, it can be hard to feel like you aren't alone. Everyone has a story. Once you break down barriers and leave the past behind, it's easier to move forward.

Fill out a brick inside the Union during the Diversity Showcase and in Olscamp Hall during the Not In Our Town Anniversary event and help "Break Down the Wall of Hate."

NOT IN OUR TOWN ONE YEAR ANNIVERSARY EVENT

Olscamp 113 (Overflow Room 111 Olscamp) 5 - 7 p.m.

One year ago, BGSU and the city of Bowling Green joined together to affirm their commitment to social justice, equity and inclusion as well as embrace and celebrate diversity. They agreed to join the "Not in Our Town" movement, a national grassroots effort that has inspired hundreds of communities to take action against hate.

Come celebrate the one-year anniversary of Not in Our Town (NIOT) – Bowling Green/BGSU and the recognition of Bowling Green as a GOLD STAR COMMUNITY. The event will feature:

- Comments from Patrice O'Neill, CEO & founder of the national NIOT movement
- Premiere of the Not in Our Town – Bowling Green/BGSU documentary (Produced by WBGU)
- Remarks by BGSU President Mary Ellen Mazey and Bowling Green Mayor Dick Edwards
- Recognition of faculty, staff, students and community members who have been instrumental in the success of NIOT
- Help us break down the wall
